

DANIEL J. TICHENOR

Department of Political Science
Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey
89 George Street
New Brunswick, N.J. 08901
(732) 932-6733
tichen@rci.rutgers.edu

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Department of Politics, 1996.
Brandeis University, Waltham, Massachusetts.
Major field: American Politics
Secondary Fields: Comparative Politics and Political Theory

B.A., Political Science, 1988, with Highest College and Departmental Honors.
Awarded Funston Scholarship for best student in history or political science.
Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana.

PROFESSIONAL APPOINTMENTS

Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Rutgers University, 2003-present.

Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Rutgers University, 1996-2003.

Visiting Research Scholar, Center for the Study of Democratic Politics,
Woodrow Wilson School of International and Public Affairs, Princeton
University, 2003-2004.

Visiting Professor, Leipzig University, 2000.

RESEARCH AND TEACHING INTERESTS

American presidency, interest groups, social movements, political parties, public policy, immigration, history and political analysis, qualitative methods.

FELLOWSHIPS AND HONORS

Gladys M. Kammerer Award for best book in American National Policy, awarded by the American Political Science Association, 2003. (For Dividing Lines)

Jack Walker Prize “honoring an article of unusual significance and importance to the field,” awarded by the Political Parties and Organizations Section, American Political Science Association, 2003. (For “Organized Interests and American Political Development”)

Emerging Scholar Award, awarded by the Political Parties and Organizations Section, American Political Science Association, 2003.

Russell Sage Foundation Research Fellowship, 2003 (declined).

Research Fellowship, Center for the Study of Democratic Politics, Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University, 2003.

External Faculty Mentor, Miller Center of Public Affairs, University of Virginia, 2003.

Smith-Richardson Junior Faculty Grant for Research on American Public Policy and Politics, Smith-Richardson Foundation, 2001-2002. ($60,000)

External Faculty Research Fellow, Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, University of California, San Diego, 2001-present.

Abba P. Schwartz Fellow for Immigration and Refugee Studies, John F. Kennedy Presidential Library, Boston, Massachusetts, 1999-2000.

Visiting Scholar, Leipzig University, 2000.

Brookings Institution Research Fellow of Governmental Studies, 1995.

John F. Kennedy Research Grant, Kennedy Library Foundation, 1995.

Louis, Frances, and Jeffrey Sachar Dissertation Research Award, Brandeis University

Gordon Fellowship for Graduate Study in Political Science, Brandeis University

Ackerman-Nicholson Award for Graduate Study in Public Affairs

J. Arthur Funston Scholarship for Politics and History, Earlham College

PUBLICATIONS

Book Manuscripts

Dividing Lines: The Politics of Immigration Control in America (Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 2002). APSA’s 2003 Kammerer Prize winner.

A Question of Representational Bias: The Dynamics of Interest Group Politics in America, with Richard Harris (Cambridge University Press, forthcoming).

Completed Edited Volume Under Review

Framing Equality: Inclusion, Exclusion, and American Political Institutions (edited with Kerry Haynie), includes co-authored introduction and single-authored chapter, currently under review with several university presses.

Journal Articles and Book Chapters

“Organized Interests and American Political Development,” first author with Richard Harris, Political Science Quarterly (Winter 2002/2003).

“The Dynamics of Interest Group Politics: A New Theoretical and Empirical Agenda,” Annual Review of Political Science Volume 7.

“Immigrants, Markets and the American State: The Political Economy of U.S. Immigration,” with James Hollifield and Gary Zuk, in Marco Guigni and Florence Passy, eds., Explaining Migration Policy (Lexington Books, 2003).

“Reform and Contentious Democracy: Presidential-Interest Group Relations in a Madisonian System,” in Gerald Pomper and Marc Weiner, eds., The Future of American Democracy (New Brunswick, NJ: Rutgers University Press, 2003).

“Theorizing Policy Gaps: Feedbacks, Institutions, and State Capacities,” in Wayne Cornelius, Phillip Martin, and James Hollifield, eds., Controlling Immigration: Global Perspectives, second edition, (Stanford, CA: Stanford University Press, 2003).

“Congress and Immigration,” in Julian Zelizer, ed., The Reader’s Companion to the United States Congress (Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 2004).

“Brahmins and Bosses in New England Politics,” in Burt Feintuch and David Winters, eds., Encyclopedia of New England Culture (New Haven, CT: Yale University Press, 2003).

“The Presidency and Interest Groups: Contentious Elites and Programmatic Ambitions,” in Michael Nelson, ed., The Presidency and the Political System, seventh edition, (Washington, D.C.: Congressional Quarterly Press, 2002).

“The Executive Branch: The President’s Cabinet,” in Paul Boyer, ed., The Oxford Companion to United States History (New York: Oxford University Press, 2001).

- “Immigrants and the American Revolution,” in James Ciment, ed., Encyclopedia of American Immigration (New York: New York University Press, 2001).
- “The Presidency, Social Movements, and Contentious Change: Lessons from the Woman’s Suffrage and Labor Movements,” Presidential Studies Quarterly (Winter 1999).
- “Immigration and Political Community in the United States,” in Amitai Etzioni, ed., The Essential Communitarian (New York: Rowman and Littlefield, 1999). Revised version of earlier essay in New Communitarian Thinking.
- “Membership and American Social Contracts,” in Noah Pickus, ed., Immigration and Citizenship in the Twenty-First Century (New York: Rowman and Littlefield, 1998).
- “Inclusion, Exclusion, and the American Civic Culture,” in David Jacobson, ed., The Immigration Reader: A Multidisciplinary Perspective (Oxford, England: Blackwell Publishers, 1998).
- “Immigration and Political Community in the United States,” in Amitai Etzioni, ed., New Communitarian Thinking: Persons, Values, Institutions and Communities (Charlottesville, VA: University of Virginia Press, 1997).
- “Two Traditions of American Reform,” International Issues, (April 1995).
- “The Politics of Immigration Reform in the United States, 1981-1990,” Polity (Spring 1994).
- “‘Direct Democracy’ and Social Justice: Theodore Roosevelt and the Progressive Party Campaign of 1912,” with Sidney Milkis, Studies in American Political Development (Fall 1994).

Occasional Papers and Non-Academic Journal Articles

- “Immigration, Nativism, and Democracy in America,” Japan Center for Area Studies Occasional Paper, no.11 (Winter 2001).
- “Immigration and American Politics,” The Responsive Community (Summer 1994).

CONFERENCE PAPERS AND INVITED PRESENTATIONS

- “The Politics of Attrition: Interest Group Influence and Demobilization,” with Richard Harris, paper to be presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political

- Science Association, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, August, 2003.
- “The Development of American Interest Group Politics,” with Richard Harris, paper to be presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, August, 2003.
- “Contending Interests: The Presidency, Advocacy Groups, and Policymaking,” paper to be presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Boston, Massachusetts, September, 2002
- “Democracy and the Foreigner,” special theme panel on Immigration and Democracy, Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Boston, Massachusetts, September, 2002.
- “The Lost Years: Interest Group Formation and Influence Over Time,” with Richard Harris, paper to be presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Boston, Massachusetts, September, 2002.
- “The Engagement of Organized Interests in National Policymaking, 1833-1920,” with Richard Harris, paper presented at the Annual Policy History Conference, St. Louis, Missouri, June, 2002.
- “Democratic Contention: The Modern Presidency, Interest Groups, and Reform Politics,” paper presented at Conference on the Future of American Democracy, New Brunswick, New Jersey, May, 2002.
- “The U.S. Case: Empirical and Normative Perspectives,” special conference on Controlling Immigration for forthcoming edited volume, Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, San Diego, California, May, 2002.
- “Immigrants, Natives, and War: Policy Implications of 9/11,” invited lecture, series on Democracy, Law, and Equality, jointly sponsored by the School of Law and the Department of Public Policy, University of North Carolina, March, 2002.
- “The Organizational Imperative: Explaining Interest Group Formation and Maintenance since the Progressive Era,” with Richard Harris, paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the Social Science History Association, November, 2001.
- “Connecting History and Political Science in Interest Group Research: Organized Interests and the Progressive Era Polity,” with Richard Harris, paper presented for the New York American Political Development Colloquium, Graduate Center, New York, New York, April, 2001.
- “Interest Group and Party Systems in American Political Development,” with Richard Harris, paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Washington, D.C., August, 2000.

- “Theorizing Immigrant Admissions and Rights,” paper presented at the Conference on Magnet Societies, supported by the German Marshall Funds, Loccum, Germany, July, 2000.
- “The Organization of Policy Bias,” paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Atlanta, Georgia, September, 1999.
- “The American Presidency, Social Movements, and Democratic Equality,” paper presented at the Conference on Framing Equality, Eagleton Institute of Politics, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey, March, 1999.
- “The Dynamics of American Immigration Politics,” paper presented at the John Tower Center for International Studies, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, April, 1999.
- “Immigration Policy in New Institutional Perspective,” paper presented at the New York American Political Development Colloquium, City University of New York, November, 1998.
- “Executive Power, Social Reform Movements, and the Problem of Democratic Leadership,” paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Washington, D.C., August, 1997.
- “Partisan Regimes and Policy Innovation in American Politics,” paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Washington, D.C., August, 1997.
- “Race, Social Movements, and American Party Conceptions: Black Delegate Struggles in Presidential Nominating Conventions,” paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, San Francisco, California, August, 1996.
- “Regulating Community: Immigration Politics and American Political Development,” invited lecture, Political Science Department, Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, November, 1995.
- “The Liberal and Illiberal Traditions in America,” paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Chicago, Illinois, September, 1995.
- “Ideas, Institutions, and Policy Change in the United States,” paper presented to the Workshop on American Political Development, Center for American Political Studies, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts, December, 1994.

“Immigration, Interest Groups, and Policy Change,” paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, New York, New York, September, 1994.

“International Migration, Citizenship, and American Politics,” invited presentation at the Special Forum of the Brookings Institution and the University of California, Berkeley on Immigration Policy, Washington, D.C., May, 1994.

“The Critical Election of 1912: Social Movements, Direct Democracy, and the Progressive Party,” with Sidney Milkis, paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association, Washington, D.C., September, 1993.

PROFESSIONAL AND DEPARTMENTAL SERVICE

Co-organizer, with Wayne Cornelius and Jeannette Money, Caucus on the Politics of International Migration (will be under consideration as an Organized Section of the American Political Science Association in the spring, 2003).

Editorial Board, Policy Studies Journal

Follett Committee, Politics and History Section, American Political Science Association, 2000-2001.

Panel chair and/or discussant at the Northeastern Political Science Association Meeting, New England Political Science Association Meeting, Social Science History Association, Northeastern Political Science Association, American Political Science Association, and other professional conferences, 1996-present.

Planning Committee, Conference on Immigration and Citizenship in the Twenty-First Century, Terry Sanford Public Policy School, Duke University, 1997.

Co-organizer, with Jan Kubik and Leela Fernandes, Political Science Seminar on Culture, History, and Institutions, Rutgers University, 2001-present.

Public Law Search Committee, Department of Political Science, Rutgers University, 2001.

Advisory Committee, Department of Political Science, Rutgers University, 1999-2001, 2002-present.

Knellor Committee, Department of Political Science, Rutgers University, 2000-present.

American Politics Search Committee, Department of Political Science, Rutgers

University, 2000.