Recommendation statement on course descriptions for Multicultural courses

Students and advisors need to know what courses meet the multicultural requirement and specifically how the courses address multicultural issues. Therefore, for all multicultural courses to be offered during a particular term, faculty or departments will post electronically, in the Schedule of Classes, course descriptions that are substantially expanded over those provided in the catalog. Course descriptions should be full enough to give students and advisors, who are not experts in the field, a clear understanding of the course content. Moreover, these descriptions should show how the course is related to the general purpose of the multicultural requirement and how it fits the particular multicultural category in which it is offered. Beyond the Schedule of classes, these expanded course descriptions should be posted in all course syllabi.
