Why the SWINGER Works: Myths and Facts

Myth: The liquid is glued in the cup.

Fact: This may be the case for some liquids, but is not the true explanation.

Myth: The strings hold the liquid in.

Fact: This can't be true. Have you ever seen strings hold liquid?

Myth: The strings hold the cup in.

Fact: This appears to be true. In fact, however, if there were some other way to hang the platform, the strings would not be needed. And even if you hold the cup, why doesn't the liquid slosh, smarty?

Myth: Your karma, transmitted through the leather, prevents accidents.

Fact: This is partially true. Caution: do not attempt to rely on this explanation in other settings.

Myth: There is something special about PLEXIGLAS®.

Fact: This is the true explanation.

Adjusting your SWINGER.

Every SWINGER has been carefully adjusted and factory tested and is guaranteed to work in both Northern and Southern Hemispheres. Should your SWINGER become out of adjustment from use, simply loosen one or more of the knots slightly, reposition them on their strings and retighten.
